2017 PARTNERSHIP IMPACT REPORT

CHICAGO PUBLIC LIBRARY

CHICAGO PVBLIC LIBRARY FOUNDATION

There are approximately 1 million active library card holders in the city. That's one-third of all Chicago households.

THE LIBRARY IS WHERE THE CITY COMES TOGETHER.

HERE'S HOW YOUR SUPPORT OF CHICAGO PUBLIC LIBRARY & LIBRARY FOUNDATION HAVE BUILT THIS COMMUNITY.

WELCOME.

Nearly everyone has a vivid memory of a favorite library. We remember checking out a book for the first time (as many as were allowed!), story times enjoyed with children and grandchildren, studying long hours in a quiet corner, and so much more.

Today, libraries the world over are transforming into spaces filled with new experiences—and our Chicago Public Library is leading that change.

There will always be a quiet corner in which to study or to curl up with a book, but now STEM learning, human centered design, and 21st century technologies are seamlessly integrated with more traditional programming and services. Our city's 80 (and growing) neighborhood branches are welcoming people of all ages and diverse backgrounds and connecting them in ways that very few other organizations can match. This year, the Library announced that three new co-located housing and library developments–the first of their kind–would be built with the Chicago Housing Authority. Indeed, through City investment and innovative partnerships, the Library has seen over $200 million of new capital projects and investments in the people and programs that activate our library system, as highlighted on page 36 of this report.

Chicago Public Library is thriving because the community invests in its success. On the following pages, we acknowledge the sustaining donors who contributed what they could each month to the vitality of their community. We recognize the leading philanthropists, businesses, and foundations that partnered with us to address big problems like the achievement gap for schoolchildren, social isolation among older adults, and the need for a digitally literate workforce. And we celebrate everyone in between who contributed to making Chicago Public Library's extraordinary work possible in 2017. Now more than ever, it is essential to have vibrant, welcoming spaces where all people are invited to learn, to grow, and to create new memories. We are fortunate indeed to live in a city so committed to its Library, and to our signature partnership programs: YOUmedia, Summer Learning Challenge, Teacher in the Library, CyberNavigators, and One Book, One Chicago. As always, we are working to ensure this continued excellence.

Please join us as we celebrate all that we accomplished together.

CHILDREN'S PROGRAMS

EARLY LEARNING

Birth to age 5 are some of the most formative years in an individual’s development. By empowering families to be their child’s first and best teacher, Chicago Public Library is working to ensure that all children have a bright start in life. In every neighborhood branch, families can find individualized guidance, book recommendations, and fun programs that nurture young learners’ brain development and build important pre-literacy skills. This guidance focuses on the building blocks of early literacy: Talk, Sing, Read, Write, Play. And, in 2017, the Library unveiled the reimagined Thomas Hughes Children’s Library—a light-filled space designed by Gensler that invites families to play and to be curious together, and that serves as a model for dynamic new play spaces across the city.

SCIENCE-CONNECTIONS

Science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) skills are more important than perhaps ever before. To ensure all Chicago's kids can enjoy quality STEM-based learning, ScienceConnections brings science to life at every one of our neighborhood libraries. Kids from pre-K through 8th grade develop their natural curiosity and problem-solving abilities with fun activities led by experts from The Laboratory, Mad Science Chicago, and the Museum of Science and Industry. So the next time you see a drone hovering inside the Harold Washington Library Center or children engineering the towering skyscrapers of tomorrow with straws, you'll know you're seeing STEM learning at work!

RAHM'S READERS SUMMER LEARNING CHALLENGE

Every summer, students—especially those from lower-income families—are at risk of losing some of the academic gains they made during the previous school year. The Summer Learning Challenge provides a fun 10 weeks of free, interactive, STEAM-focused programming in every branch to halt the summer slide in its tracks and make sure all Chicago's kids start school ready to learn. This year's superhero theme invited kids birth to age 13 to join the Super Explorers from June 19 to September 1.

HOMEWORK HELP

The costs of a private tutor is prohibitive for many families. But at CPL, all families have access to individualized learning support as part of the largest, most comprehensive free homework help program in the country. During the school year, accredited educators—the Teachers in the Library (TILs)—help grade-school students throughout the city become more skilled and confident learners. The nearly 100,000 sessions provided in 2016/17 represent a 68% increase over four years, when the program was expanded with Homework Help volunteers and began offering free, bilingual online tutoring through Brainfuse.com.

TEEN PROGRAMS

YOUMEDIA

You might be tempted to visit one of the Library's 12 YOUmedia sites—but these action-packed spaces are for teens only! Adolescence is a time of incredible growth and discovery. YOUmedia provides a safe place where teens can find the transformational experiences and support they need to succeed in school and in life. In teens-only spaces open to all students, mentors guide young people through project-based learning opportunities in a variety of STEAM areas that help teens make informed decisions about post-high school opportunities and potential career paths.

CYBER-NAVIGATORS

CPL is Chicago's largest free digital access provider. Patrons used nearly two million computer sessions and four million Wi-Fi sessions in 2017 alone. But access isn't enough. It is practically a requirement that people know how to confidently navigate today's online world, but many adults still have low digital literacy. That's where the CyberNavigator (CN) computer trainers come in. Over two decades, the program has evolved from simply providing access and basic digital instruction into a truly transformative resource for lifelong learning. Through both one-on-one assistance and small group classes, CNs working in 65 neighborhood branches empower thousands of adults every year to overcome barriers to employment, education, and civic participation.

BMO Financial Group, U.S. CEO, Dave Casper announced a $1 million gift over three years from BMO to the Chicago Public Library Foundation: together with generous support from Allstate and other donors, this investment will specifically support YOUmedia programming. Due to the program's popularity and outcomes, the City of Chicago also plans to expand YOUmedia to 17 branches by the end of 2018. "YOUmedia is about empowering teens by exposing them to technology and encouraging them to innovate and create–investing in this program is investing in our teens and the future of our city," Mayor Emanuel said.

APRIL 21-22

SECOND ANNUAL CHITEEN LIT FEST ★

What is ChiTeen Lit Fest? YOUmedia partnerships coordinator Jennifer Steele explains: "Rather than design a festival and try, as adults, to explain to teens how to build a community and what writers they should be learning from…we decided to draw on what we already see happening in the teen community and let them create a festival for themselves and their friends." The result is a two day "for teens, by teens" celebration of creative youth, now in its second year. More than 500 teens from across Chicago attended the 2017 Fest; see the highlights at chiteenlitfest.org.

The face-to-face component is key: according to Library Journal, "retention rates for Learning Circles reach between 45 and 55 percent. That's many times the rate of users who take MOOCs on their own, which is less than seven percent." For more information about Learning Circles and upcoming classes, visit www.chipublib.org.

THOMAS HUGHES CHILDREN'S LIBRARY AT HAROLD WASHINGTON LIBRARY CENTER OPENS

"The children's library at the downtown Harold Washington Library Center is no longer the traditional stuffy and quiet space equipped only with books and wooden chairs and tables. It has a new, bright welcoming look with blue carpeting and painted pillars as a nod to the Chicago flag color scheme, seating nooks built into bookshelves, squishy seating blocks and beanbag lounging areas and active play areas with 3-D printers, a green screen and singalongs."

– Leonor Vivanco, "Kids section at Harold Washington Library reopens as 'active learning lab,'" Chicago Tribune, July 12 2017
